

SONEXone

What is SONEXone?

SONEXone is our highest-quality acoustical foam, made from fireproof melamine and loaded with extra touches that make it especially suited for architectural applications.

We take our famous SONEX pattern and make it subtler, with gently rolling wedges. Then we bevel the edges of 2" and 3" SONEXone, producing a more uniform, seamless look.

An optional hypalon (synthetic rubber coating) also boosts the product's acoustical performance and adds cleanability.

Where is SONEXone Used?

Use SONEXone where you want to showcase the finest acoustical foam available. This includes offices, restaurants, theaters—anywhere noise and echo are a problem. SONEXone is rated Class 1 for flammability, which means that it can be used anywhere.

1" thick SONEXone has a mini version of the SONEXone surface pattern, and with its optional hypalon coating it has among the best acoustical absorption of any 1" foam you can buy.
